QUALIFICATIONS

While studying design I gave special emphasis to its conceptual area. Therefore I have managed to become a high profile and multidisciplinary professional by adding concepts of marketing, information architecture, usability, interactivity and user experience to my previous self-taught qualifications, which consist of programming, technical web skills and Linux/Unix environments.

Always valued for creative solutions to old and new problems by finding technical and conceptual solutions that enable great results. Always active in researching, mocking up, prototyping and having people understand what could be achieved by a particular product or service.

LANGUAGES, PROGRAMMING, SOFTWARE AND TECHNOLOGIES:
